Join Us

As we enter the next decade of our partnership, the 11th Annual Leadership Conference, jointly hosted by Trinity Western University (TWU) and Stella Maris College (SMC), explores how transcendent thinking can guide leadership in the age of AI across sectors that drive our global economies. It focuses on integrating the human factor—values, character, and relational intelligence—into AI-enabled, data-driven systems being adopted and innovated within higher education institutions. The conference will offer fresh perspectives through dialogue between industry experts, university leaders, and student leaders on how these systems can foster more accountable connections with public and private sector partners leading to the design of relevant programs that equip future leaders to serve a rapidly evolving global AI-driven economy
